GREGG TWP. MAN AND 16-YR. GIRL DISAPPEAR

Arthur M. Grove Leaves Behind Wife and 4 Children.

ESTHER FLORAY MISSING

Pretty Daughter of William Floray, of Chester Hill, Who Denies She Eloped —Formerly Employed at Grove's Farm, Near Spring Mills.

Residents of Gregg township are considerably stirred over the sudden departure from that section, on Friday, last, of Arthur M. Grove, a married man, and Esther Floray, a 16-year-old girl.

Grove who is a farmer, left behind a wife and four children, the oldest a boy of about eight years, and the youngest being twin babies, about fifteen months old. Furthermore, his wife is in a delicate condition.

Esther Floray is the daughter of William Floray, residing at Chester Hill. About one year ago she was employed at the Grove farm, which is near the old toll gate, this side of Spring Mills, along the pike.

The father of the girl stoutly maintains that she did not elope with Grove, asserting that she went to Altoona to visit a brother. Before her departure, the girl explained that she was going to Altoona.

Nothing has been heard from Grove since his sudden disappearance. He left without making any provision for the care of the stock on his farm and neighbors, on learning of the situation, have since been giving such assistance as they can to the distressed family.

Before his departure on Friday, Grove explained that he was going to Bellefonte to buy a pump from Charles Garbrick, the machinist. Mr. Garbrick waited at his shop, on Water Street, until after 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon, but Grove failed to appear. In the meantime, Mr. Garbrick learned that Grove's family were concerned about him. He, however, was unable to throw any light on the matter.

Grove, who is about 32 years old, visited the Floray home a few days prior to his disappearance. That he was quietly planning to go away would seem to be borne out by the fact that he recently sold some sheep and also some cattle. Mrs. Grove was of the belief that when he left he had but $70 in his possession. Others say, however, that he had over $300 in cash at the time.

The farm on which the Groves live was purchased eight or nine years ago. They have since paid off one mortgage of $1200 and another of $1560, showing that they were getting along nicely. When they learned of Grove's disappearance, a sister and one brother visited Bellefonte to inquire into the condition of his estate. Their thought first was that he might have become ill and wandered away. When they learned that both he and the young girl had disappeared on the same day, they again visited the Court House to re-examine the records to learn what was charged against the farm. Grove, it is understood, has a one-half interest in the farm. He has a brother in Colorado, and by some it is thought that he may have started for the West.

Mrs. Grove is a daughter of Isaac Haugh, who lives in the Brush Valley side of Gregg township, near Farmers Mills.

Kills Snake on March 6.

Although there had been snow on the ground continuously from December to several days ago, a garter snake, two feet in length, was killed on Sunday, March 6, near Coleville. George Robb and Scott Lose were out walking, when they noticed the snake along the edge of a stream. At first they thought the snake must be dead, but upon examination they found it to be quite lively. It was quickly killed. Where the snake had come from was a mystery.

Fruit Growers to Meet.

The Centre County Fruit Growers' Association will hold an important meeting at Rebersburg, Friday evening and Saturday, March 18 and 19. Professor J. P. Stewart, of State College, and Cyrus Brungart, president of the association, will be among the speakers. A large attendance is requested.

Gave Birth to Four Lambs.

A ewe, owned by County Treasurer George G. Fink, of Martha, gave birth to four lambs one day last week. Stock growers say this is the first case that has come to their attention where so many lambs were born at one time. Three of the lambs died.

FRANK T. WALLACE

Well Known Brick Manufacturer Passes Away at Milesburg.

Frank T. Wallace, the well known brick manufacturer and for years a resident of Milesburg, died shortly after 8 o'clock, on Tuesday, at his late home at that place. He had been in ill health for some time, an attack of pneumonia resulting in tuberculosis which finally caused his death. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock today, from his late home, at Milesburg. Rev. Dr. J. Allison Platts will conduct the services.

Mr. Wallace was born in Toluca, Mexico, May 31, 1836, and was the eldest son of a widowed mother. There were also two brothers and one sister. When about 12 years of age he went to the city of Mexico, to learn the saddler's trade with his uncles. He was there when General Scott entered the city, and Frank became attached to the American soldiers. With the close of the war he concluded to see the American soldiers start for the States and went with them to Vera Cruz. After the soldiers had boarded the vessel and the gang plank was still up, George Watson, of Penns Valley, held out his hands to him and said: "Come on." He thus boarded the vessel and arrived at New Orleans, later at New York, and from there went to Lewistown. From there he went with Mr. Watson to Penns Valley, making his home with the former until he was about 18 years of age. At about that time he started to learn the brick business with Mr. Stone, of Centre County, and in this business he remained to the time of his death.

Mr. Wallace was united in marriage with Miss Lucie C. Clyde, of Boalsburg, February 2, 1858, by the Rev. James Linn. To this union there were born thirteen children, eleven of whom are living, as follows: W. F. Wallace, of Tyrone; R. B. and F. F. Jr., of Milesburg; L. L., of Bellefonte; Mrs. Mary Pletcher, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Margaret Williams, of Hagerstown, Md.; Mrs. Ethel Blair, of Tyrone; H. Ross, of Milesburg; Mrs. Anna Belle Shaner, at home; James G., of Milesburg, and W. Brinton, of Bellefonte.

He united with the Presbyterian church, in 1872, at Beech Creek. Mr. Wallace served in the war of the Rebellion being mustered into the service, November 20, 1861. He was promoted to the rank of coporal and later sergeant.

He was captured August 16, 1865, confined in Libby prison, Richmond, Va., from the 19th to the 28th; in Belle Isle prison, from August 28th to September 17th, and at Salisbury, North Carolina, from which prison he escaped and reached Statesville, North Carolina. He was recaptured after being out six days, but again escaped, in November, and nearly reached Charlottesville, N. C., when he was once more recaptured, having been out this time five days. He was returned to Salisbury, November 20. He again escaped February 11, 1865, and reached the Union lines at Strawberry Plains, Tenn., March 29, 1865. He was discharged by general orders, May 29, of that year.

JOHN N. LARRIMER.

John N. Larrimer died on Friday, March 4, at the home of Captain W. H. Fry, at Pine Grove Mills, of a complication of diseases. He was born October 23, 1843, and was the only son of Hugh and Rebecca Larrimer. Of six sisters, two survive, Mrs. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, and Mrs. R. H. Swartz, of Chicago, Ill. In early manhood he went to Mt. Carroll, Ill., where he taught school and later engaged in the mercantile business. His heart failed and he returned East to the old home, with the hope that the pure air of the Pennsylvania mountains might benefit him. For a time he improved, but his health again failed. He was a man who was exceptionally genial and had many friends who mourn his death. Burial was made on Monday in the new cemetery, Rev. W. K. Harnish officiating. Thus another old Pine Grove Academy student has answered his last roll call.

MRS. JANE GATES.

Mrs. Jane Gates, widow of the late David J. Gates, died on Friday morning, last, at her home at Stormstown, aged 65 years 10 months and 26 days. She had been in poor health for about five weeks, death being attributed to heart disease. The funeral was held on Sunday morning from the United Brethren church, Stormstown, interment being made at the Friends cemetery about two and one-half miles distant. Deceased is survived by three children: Mrs. Ella Rider, of Stormstown; William Gates, of Benore, and Mrs. James Neidigh of State College. One brother and two sisters also survive: John McIlwain, of Ringo; Mrs. Lizzie Conaur, of Warriors-Mark, and Mrs. Kate Beck, of Huntingdon.

R. R. OPERATOR ADMITS ROBBERY YARN IS FAKE

William Cheyney Invented Tale of Hold-up at Hannah Tower.

SHOOTS UP HIS OFFICE

Put out Signal Stopping Trains, Wired Port Matilda and Tyrone of Robbery—When found by Train Crew Feigned Unconsciousness.

While temporarily irresponsible, William Cheyney, the Pennsylvania Railroad operator at the Hannah station tower, early Tuesday morning fired several shots through his office door, threw out a signal stopping all trains and after wiring Port Matilda and Tyrone that he was being robbed, bound himself with cords and when found feigned unconsciousness. Cheyney, after being removed to his home at Port Matilda, told a thrilling story of an attack on him at 4 o'clock in the morning by two masked robbers, how they had battered in his door, how he had shot through the door in self defense and how he had then been gagged, bound and robbed and also kicked in the side until he became unconscious.

The Pennsylvania Railroad officials, thoroughly aroused by Cheyney's story, placed a corps of detectives on the case. Cheyney was subjected to a severe cross-examination, with the result that he confessed that there had been no attempted robbery and that he alone figured in the "hold-up." The suspicion of the detectives was aroused when they could discovered no motive other than that of robbery. They were unwilling to accept the theory that thieves would take such a risk to rob a night operator, knowing in advance that he would not have much, if any, money on his person. Cheyney said that the thieves had taken less than $1 from him, and this was regarded by the detectives as bearing out their theory that something was wrong in the young man's story.

Cheyney gave no reason for his action. He was notified by the Pennsylvania Railroad not to report for work until his health is improved. He is about 21 years old and is a son of H. F. Cheney, a well known and highly respected resident of Port Matilda.

COUNCIL REORGANIZES

J. C. Harper Elected President; Kirk Off Water Committee.

The Democratic fat is in the fire, so far as Bellefonte Council is concerned. When the new Council, which has a Democratic majority, met and organized on Monday, last, J. C. Harper was elected president. The first thing President Harper did was to humiliate Dr. M. A. Kirk, also a Democrat, giving him a push and dropping him from the Water Committee and virtually every other committee. To add to his humiliation, Dr. Kirk was offered the chairmanship of the Market Committee, but he bluntly declined. To rub it in a little bit more, President Harper appointed him a member of the Village Improvement Committee. What Dr. Kirk thought about this he didn't say. However, he didn't decline. The only important committee to which he was appointed, despite his long service in Council, was the Finance Committee.

Since as far back as about the time of Noah, Dr. Kirk has not only been a member of the Water Committee, but has been THE Water Committee. Hence the air of suppressed excitement when President Harper calmly announced his appointments, revealing the direct and intentional slap at Dr. Kirk. While not on the Water Committee, Dr. Kirk will continue to figure as the "fire brand" of Council and indications are for a further widening of the Democratic breach. President Harper's committee appointments follow:

Street—Judge, Keller, Sheffer,
Water—Musser, Yerger, Judge,
Finance—Keller, Kirk, Grimm,
Fire & Police—Beezer, Musser, Sheffer,
Market—Grimm, Sheffer, Beezer,
Sanitary—Judge, Musser, Yerger,
Village Imp—Grimm, Kirk, Yerger,
Special—Musser, Keller, Judge, Sheffer, Beezer.

William T. Kelley was re-elected secretary of Council, and J. Thomas Mitchell was again named as solicitor. William A. Ishler was chosen to succeed himself as collector of water rents. J. Henry Wetzel was re-elected borough engineer. Samuel Rine was again chosen water superintendent, and Samuel Showers was re-elected street commissioner, defeating Thomas Shaughnessy.

"The Republican"—$1 a year.

ZERBY VS. KEICHLINE IN PRIZE BOUT-WOW!

Democratic Chairman and Knifed Squire Said To Be Training?

$400 SIDE BET RUMOR

Not the $400 Which Squire Says Zerby Used to Help Elect Henry Brown—Special Dispatches to "The Republican" From Rival Camps.

Mutual friends report that Democratic Chairman Zerby and Squire Keichline may settle their differences in the ring. "The Republican" respectfully declines in advance to serve as referee.

The Jeffries—Johnson setto will not be pulled off until July 4, thus affording ample time for the one attraction without interfering with the other. It is argued further that Zerby and Keichline would be perfectly at home in the ring—both being seasoned in ring service—and that they could then and there dispose of the following troublous questions:

"Did Zerby knife Keichline at the polls?"

"Should Keichline have been knifed?"

"What about that $400?"

Rumors that Zerby and Keichline are quietly training for a finish fight would seem to be confirmed by the following dispatches to "The Republican":

FROM CAMP KEICHLINE.

Via squireless.

"Things are on the jump tonight in Camp Keichline—that is, the recently defeated champ is making a noise like a candidate for County Chairman against Zerby. For breakfast this morning he ate three eggs, a lamb chop or two and a large hunk of smoked sausage. Two hours with the handball and punching bag and then a brief rest, after which he had on the gloves with Jim Schofield, his trainer; this constituted the first day's strenuous training. About 7 o'clock tonight he was out for a run and did it all better as a runner than was the case on February 15.

"Can he get back into his fighting trim? This is the one question uppermost in the minds of Keichline's managers. If he can, then there is nothing to it, they argue. Otherwise, its a toss up who will win. However, Keichline is going ahead with his training and means to win. Reports have been received here that Zerby is afraid and that the bout may never be pulled off. Keichline's managers do not believe this, suspecting it to be a ruse to get their man into the open again and make himself a mark for another shower of long, sharp knives, such as were pumped into him on a recent occasion.

"Keichline is still mad mad as the dickens—and the mere mention of Zerby's name sends him into a rage. He reiterates his determination to get even with the County Chairman. Others on his 'get-even list' include Kennedy Johnston, Bill Heinle, Paul Fortney, Fred Musser, Jim. Corl, Jim. Cornelly and (keep it quiet) Judge Orvis.

"Visitors to the camp today brought the tale that Judge Orvis, as well as Zerby, visited Henry D. Brown and dropped words of encouragement to the latter to become a candidate in opposition to Keichline for Justice of the Peace. Keichline refuses to believe that Orvis managed the Democratic revolt that aided in the election of Brown.

"Everybody here is waiting for some word from Zerby. Has he got the nerve to square off against Keichline? Until he has some definite word that Zerby has taken to the woods, Keichline means to continue training and not be caught napping."

FROM CAMP ZERBY.

By airship

"Reports, undoubtedly inspired by Squire Keichline, to the effect that Zerby is scared and afraid and all that sort of rot, are treated with contemptuous laughter here. Zerby is willing to fight whenever he is ready. Only his trainers know when this will be. Meanwhile, Zerby is getting down to fighting weight. Thus far he has lost five pounds and much sleep.

"Zerby's trainers are impressing on him that he had a perfect right to knife Keichline at the polls, and that he is not the first Democratic County Chairman who owned and used a knife. They also point out to him that Orvis will be a candidate for re-election, anyhow, and that he might just as well have some fun as chase the judgeship rainbow around a circle.

Zerby has such a low, down opinion of Keichline that he doesn't take the Squire seriously, although he has not told even his trainers so much as a word about that $400. If it is true that Judge Orvis called on Henry Brown and passed the time of day, nobody here knows about it—at least, they will not discuss it. Deny that canard at any cost—not exceeding $400.

"One of Zerby's trainers confidentially said tonight: 'Bill. has old Kicky on the run. Fact of the matter is, Kicky's a dead one. We licked him; course we did. Did it for the good of the community—including ourselves. Old Kicky was doing too much business. He was hogging things.'

"Your correspondent witnessed Zerby in training today. He was looking fine. Had on a belt and a large knife that dangled about his knees. His trainer says he'll be ready when he's ready. Bet your wad on him. Zerby, his trainers say, is so confident of winning that he has $400 to bet on the result."

"P. S. This isn't the same $400."

PAY FOR DROWNED HORSE

Spring Township Supervisors Settle in Gentzel Lake Case.

The supervisors of Spring township have decided not to contest Christ. Beezer's claim for $200 for the horse which was drowned in the lake, near Zion, in the accident which nearly resulted in the death of S. S. Osman, the Port Matilda undertaker.

Mr. Beezer has recovered the buggy and also the harness, both showing no damage after being in the water almost three days.

The horse and buggy were removed from the lake on Friday. Both horse and buggy were found to be fast in a wire fence. The water at that point was found to be about ten feet deep.

Since the publication in "The Republican" last week of Osman's thrilling experience, hundreds of persons have visited the lake. The water thus far shows no indication of receding.

Mr. Osman suffered severely as a result of exposure and being in the freezing water over two hours. His left leg is so badly crippled that he cannot place his foot on the ground. The leg is partly paralyzed between the knee and the ankle.

Sentenced in Capital Case.

Former Auditor General William P. Snyder and James M. Shumaker, former Superintendent of the State Board of Public Grounds and Buildings, were yesterday taken to the eastern penitentiary to begin their two years' sentence. Both were convicted in the Capital graft cases and the Supreme Court on Monday refused their appeal for a new trial. On learning of this Snyder and Shumaker surrendered themselves and were at once taken to prison. The State has filed civil suit to recover upward of $5,000,000 from Snyder, Shumaker and others accused of profiting to this amount in the furnishing of the Capital building.

A Neat Compliment.

"I just dropped in to say that 'The Republican' had the best account of my son's accident that was published in any paper," said Postmaster H. H. Osman, of Port Matilda, who was a caller yesterday at "The Republican" office. Mr. Osman is the father of S. S. Osman, who was almost drowned last week in the lake, near Zion. We appreciate a compliment of this kind, since it is the aim of "The Republican" to give the best account of everything that happens; in short to be the best newspaper in Centre County.

U. E. Church Appointments.

The Central Pennsylvania Conference of the United Evangelical Church, held at Newberry, made the following appointments: Centre District, J. C. Reeser, Presiding Elder; Bellefonte, J. F. Hower; Centre Hall, S. A. Snyder; Howard, W. W. Rhoads; Millheim, W. J. Dice; Nittany, J. F. Bingham; Rebersburg, J. B. McLaughlin; Sugar Valley, Ralph Smith; Spring Mills, H. A. Snook E. L. Kessler was appointed a member of the Millheim quarterly conference.

Superior Court Decisions.

The Superior Court, at Williamsport on Monday, handed down a number of decisions, including the following from Centre County:

Bren vs. Sherer; affirmed.

Pierce vs. Bolak; affirmed.

Superintendent of Humes Farms.

John W. Ebey, of Zion, has been chosen superintendent of the Humes' farms. He will take charge in that capacity April 1. Mr. Ebey is recognized as one of the best farmers in the country.

Dr. Frear Declines.

Dr. William Frear, of State College, has filed a petition with Judge Orvis to have his recent election as auditor of State College borough set aside. His present term as auditor does not expire until December, 1913.

BURDENS LIFTED

From Bellefonte Backs Relief Proved by Lapse of Time.

Backache is a heavy burden;
Nervousness wears one out;
Rheumatic pain; urinary ills;
All are kidney burdens –
Daily effects of kidney weakness.
No use to cure the symptoms,
Relief is but temporary if the cause remains.

Cure the kidney and you cure the cause.

Relief comes quickly – comes to stay.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney ills;
Prove it by your neighbor's case.
Here's Bellefonte testimony.
The story of a permanent cure.

Mrs. James Corl, 361 E. Bishop Street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: "A member of my family used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1907, procuring them from Green's Pharmacy Co. and a complete cure from backache and kidney complaint was received. At that time we publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills and as there has been no return of the trouble, we again give this remedy a word of praise. You are welcome to publish this statement for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Hints for Stock Owners.

The air ships are flying high, but they cannot overtake pork. The humble pig has become the most important animal on the farm.

March winds whittle the flesh right off the cows. Keep them in out of the cold.

We would not hear so much about Pasteurizing in the creamery if there were a little more pasture-izing in the dairy.

The farm animals are shedding their coats, and the Peter Tumbledown cows will soon show clean flanks for the first time since last fall.

If much chilled, the lamb should be taken at once to a warm room, and plunged in water as hot as the hand will stand Then wrap the lamb in hot flanne. and rub it dry.

If a ewe loses her lamb, she can't be taught to mother a twin by confining her in a narrow stall.

Keep the pens level and dry.

A small quantity of oil-meal is a valued addition to the grain ration at this time.

You can't toughen a horse to the spring work in a day. Start in easy. Think how it is with your own shoulders.

Take pains to exercise the horses and harden them up before the real spring work begins. This is necessary if you wish to avoid delays and risks.

Standing in the barn will spoil a horse sooner than good steady work. When you see his legs begin to stock up, hurry and get him to work at something, if it is nothing more than exercising in the yard every day. Keep that up till you have some real business to do. From March Farm Journal.

Pensions for Preachers.

We are busy discussing pensions for school teachers, public servants and veteran workers of all kinds. Would not an agitation for better pensions for old preachers be in order? Surely the ministry is not a more selfish or remunerative calling than the others. Thirty men, contributing outright $3,000,000, have established in New York the New Theater, designed to cultivate the highest and best in dramatic art, free from any sort of influence from the box office. No dividends are to be paid, but any profits accruing are to go toward a permanent fund devoted to the enlargement of the original enterprise. The drama needs to be fostered in just the way the New Theater plans to do it, and we have no criticism of the princely philanthropy back of the project. But we raise the question. If thirty men in New York can give $3,000,000 for the stage, are there not throughout the country one hundred millionaires who could together put up a $10,000,000 fund to pension old and needy ministers? Business men of the churches, here is a practical proposition. We believe you can put it through. —Leslie's.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: –I have suffered a long time with kindey and bladder trouble and have used several well known kidney medicines all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Before I use Foley's Kidney Pill I was subjected to severe backache and pains n my kidneys with suppression and oftentimes a cloudy voiding. While upon arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and once more feel like my own self. All to owes solely to Foley's Kidney Pills and I always recommend them to my fellow sufferers." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Diamond Cut Diamond.

"Patrick H. McCarren," said a Brooklyn lawyer, "knew how to handle men. He met straightforward men with straightforward methods, and tricky men he bested with wilier tricks than their own.

"Once he illustrated his policy to me with a story. He was like, he said, the rich Peter Higgins.

"When Peter was young and gay two friends, being hard up, put up a game on him.

"'Peter,' they said, 'you might pay us that $2 we lent you.'

"'When did you lend me $2?' said Peter haughtily.

"'Why, night before last, when you were drunk,' was the reply.

"'Oh, yes,' said Peter. 'I remember now. But, hang it, I paid you back!'

"'Paid us back? When?'

"'Last night, when you were drunk. Don't you remember?'"

Didn't Lose His Temper.

There was an elderly East Indian colonel whose boast it was that he had a very tranquil disposition that nothing could ruffle. He took up golf, and for a long time his friends failed to notice any disturbance of the colonel's outward calm, but one day, when playing a foursome, he got into a notorious "devil's punchbowl" bunker and spent a terrible fifteen minutes trying first to find the ball and then to play it out. He tried every club in vain, and at last, glaring like a demon, he smashed them, one after another, across a jagged rock. "What are you doing?" cried the party above. "It's all right!" he snorted. "It's—it's better to—break one's clubs than to—lose one's temper!" And the caddie gathered up the pieces.

Crushing a Lawyer.

De Wolfe Hopper was once a witness in a suit for slander, and the opposing counsel in the court room said:

"You are an actor, I believe?"

"Yes," replied Hopper.

"Is not that a low calling?"

"I don't know, but it's so much better than my father's that I am rather proud of it."

"What was your father's calling, may I ask?"

"He was a lawyer," said Hopper.

Howard.

In the death of Mrs. W. T. Leathers, early last Thursday morning, Howard has lost one of its most estimable ladies and one who will be greatly missed in all circles. She was an inspiration to all with whom she associated and her passing away is cause for genuine sorrow among a large friendship. The funeral services took place Saturday afternoon from the Methodist Episcopal church, of which she was a devoted member, and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. S. Taylor, assisted by Rev. A. P. Wharton, a former pastor. Interment was made in the family plot in the Curtin cemetery.

During the high water last week in Bald Eagle creek our fishermen enjoyed a prosperous and successful season. Suckers and mullets of large and small size were caught in great quantities and many of the Izaak Waltons have been living on a Lenten diet. The fishermen were pretty sure of a catch any way they went after them, but occasionally a set net was lifted and appropriated to another owner without the consent of the the original owner.

While fishing last week Hayes Daughenbaugh caught a peculiar looking fish which he nor any other person could classify or name. The fish was covered with fine, long hair, except the head and fins, where the hair was short. No one has any knowledge of a similar fish ever being caught in Bald Eagle creek, and all were at a loss to know whether it was a freak or of some unknown species.

Last Thursday afternoon a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carr at the home of Mr Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Weirick.

William P. Mahaffey, a Howard boy who served his country in the 45th regiment and who is now located at Clearfield, was among those who attended the reunion at Williamsport, last week, and stopped off here to visit his sister, Mrs. Sue O. Knoll, and other relatives for a few days, returning to his home on Monday.

L. C. Thompson attended the United Evangelical Conference at Newberry several days last week.

Rev. R. S. Taylor was a Williamsport visitor last week and spent part of his time with his sons at the Dickinson Seminary.

W. C. Thompson, the township justice whose illness was mentioned last week, has not shown any improvement in his condition. Mr. Thompson had been ill with the grip and later both his ears bealed and he has been having a most serious time. His condition at present is such as to cause his friends no little concern. He was one of the persons who went over the embankment at Hunter Run with a sled load, some time ago.

E. C. McEntire, of Williamsport, a brother of Dr. O. W. McEntire, was in town last week greeting his many friends and looking after the interests of the mercantile firm which he so ably represents.

Signal Inspector Schell, of Tyrone, was here on Monday looking after that branch of the service and found everything in charge of the boys here in good condition.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is continuing to dump an occasional load of cinders and ashes in the sink hole in the rear of the station and a large portion of it has been filled up. Supervisor Seymour was in town on Monday and stated the company would fill it completely, with permission of councils. This will make a very substantial improvement in the vicinity of the railroad company's property here and should have been made years ago. From what we can learn the station will not be wired for electric light and Dame Rumor again says we are to have a station of a more imposing appearance. It is to be hoped that some day one of these rumors will take form and become an actual thing. Meanwhile Mr. P. R. R. every improvement helps and we hope that you will continue the good work until you have given us a depot worthy of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Marius Miner were visitors at the Clinton county seat on Monday.

On Sunday afternoon, Eleanor, the ten-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Knarr, died at their home, death being due to pneumonia. The funeral took place on Tuesday.

WOOD OF CIGAR BOXES

Spanish Cedar, Which Isn't Cedar, Used Because of its Oil.

That cigar boxes are not made of cedar will surprise 99 out of 100 smokers. "They are made of Spanish cedar," they may declare. Yes, but Spanish cedar isn't cedar. So says a writer in the Bulletin of the American Republics.

He declares that Spanish cedar has no relation to the coniferous trees, and is found only in the tropics, precisely the place which real cedar declines to inhabit. The confusion of names is due to the fact that in Spanish the name of this particular tree is cedrela. The spanish name for cedar is cedro.

The Spanish cedar, as the cedrela has come to be known in English, is closely allied to mahogany. The two grow side by side and the cedrela is often both intentionally and unintentionally cut as mahogany, shipped, sold and made into furniture under that attractive name; but the trees are quite distinct, the wood of the cedrela being much softer and less beautifully marked.

The cigar box is the finished product into which practically all Spanish cedar is absorbed. In the tropics one sometimes sees cedar cabinets or cedar chests of solid build and substantial weight into which the careful housewife stores her garments for protection from moths and other insects.

The cedar chest of Northern climes is made from the red cedar; the cone-bearing tree, which is equally protective because it is a curious fact that the essential oil obtained from it resembles both in odor and preservative quality the oil of the cedrela. For lead pencils, when they are made of cedar at all, the Northern cedar is utilized. Formerly a small quantity of cedrela was cut up for high-grade pencils, as the odor added to their aesthetic value, but it is no longer put to that use.

The average cigar box requires one and three-quarters square feet of Spanish cedar sheets for its construction, the sheets being the thin, board-like strips into which the log is sawed or veneered in the mill. Say, that the annual importation, into the United States produces 150,000,000 square feet of sheets for 1909 this amount will be materially greater, this will account for an output of 120,000,000 boxes. Allowing 50 cigars to a box, the provision for packing accounts for 6,000,000,000 cigars a year in Spanish cedar alone.

The logs are cut into thin sheets at the factory, but before these are made up they must be dried or sweated to drive out the superfluous oil and to make the oil content just exactly right, for subtle influence of this oil upon tobacco is well acknowledged, but not chemically explained. The flavor of the better tobacco is certainly maintained, and some claim that it is even enhanced thereby. Experience long ago disproved the assertion that this influence was imaginative and the buyers and smokers of choice cigars can at once detect a deterioration, when the proportion of oil is below normal.

Unquestionably therefore it is Spanish cedar, and nothing but Spanish cedar, which in every country where cigars are made must be the receptacle for high-grade cigars. For lower grade cigars boxes of basswood and poplar are made; these look like those of genuine Spanish cedar, and can be made to smell like them by a spray of the true oil or that from the juniper tree, but deception can go no further, because the tobacco itself shows the results in due time. Compressed paper, stained, grain and scented has also been used as a substitute, but this deceives no one who sees it outside the show window.

INTERESTING PAMPHLET

Penna. Railroad Distributing Article on Orchard Culture.

Since issuing the third edition of its agricultural pamphlets on "Alfalfa" and "Use of Lime on Land", the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has determined to enlarge upon its work in the distribution through its freight representatives a series of pamphlets on orchard development. Some 18,000 of the first edition of these pamphlets were printed.

Accompanying the pamphlets on orchard development is an announcement from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company that its purpose is "to offer to its patrons in the territory it serves the benefits of scientific research and improvement in methods resulting from careful study and experiment."

The new pamphlets, which are to be given a large circulation, have as their subjects "Planting," "Cultivation," "Pruning," and "Spraying." The text matter was written specially for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company by Professor H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist of the State of Pennsylvania. They were also approved by Hon. N. B. Critchfield, State Secretary of Agriculture.

More About Dear Togo.

We quote from the "Morning Mission," published at Riverside California, the following commenting on a recent incident in our midst.

"From the Bellefonte, (Pa.), Republican the sad news comes to us of the passing of 'Togo' and of the solemn and impressive ceremonies which attended his commitment to the tomb.

"No," gentle reader, this was not the Togo who laid low the pride of the Russians and received the thanks of the emperor and the plaudits of his countrymen. Neither was it one of his smiling and urbane countrymen who sprinkled the Pacific slope so plenteously and who rejoiced in this patronymic even as does the American in the name of Smith.

"The Togo to whom the Republican pays sad tribute was one of those faithful friends of man that go through life with a tail at one end and a bark at the other. Togo was a dog, the property (if we may so demean him) of Mrs. G. Murray Andrews of Philadelphia by choice and of Bellefonte by neccessity.

"It was while Togo was in Philadelphia that death overtook him. The details of the sickness which ended so sadly and incidentally ended Togo are not made known in this prose elegy of Togo, perhaps they were of too harrowing a nature to recount—but in any event Togo died and his remains were incased in a satin lined casket of polished cherry and expressed a distance of nearly 200 miles to Bellefonte, the summer home of his mistress, who accompanied the remains on the lone sad journey.

"Before burial Togo lay in state and many sorrowing friends called to view the remains and to assuage the grief of Togo's sadly bereaved mistress.

"The ceremony at the grave was quite de rigeur.

"Perhaps the zero weather which prevails at present in that benighted region was responsible for the absence of a large number of mourners.

"Let us at least take this charitable view of the matter, and let us not be too hasty in our opinion or too harsh in our judgment, of an entire community. It is hard to believe that such an utter lack of feeling and human sympathy can and does exist as that displayed by the friends of Mrs. Andrews, some of whom even refused to view the remains of Togo as he lay it state in an upper chamber.

"Only his mistress and a dear friend were present when Togo was lowered by an attendant into his last resting place and as the cold clods fell unfeelingly upon his casket his weeping mistress was tenderly supported from the scene.

"Farewell, Togo. Let us hope that you have gone where the shade trees stretch away in one long unbroken line and that you are there and busy."

Cedron Seed Plant.

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article.

This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

GEORGE BUSH IN HAWAII

With Mrs. Calloway He Arrives at Honolulu on World Tour.

Judigng by the reports given in the Honolulu "Sunday Advertiser", George T. Bush, and his sister, Mrs. Calloway, are having a most delightful time on their globe-circling tour. A copy of the paper, received at "The Republican" office, is profusely illustrated with photographs of members of the party, known as the "Clark tourists". Under the caption, "The Blooming Bush", the "Sunday Advertiser" has this to say about our fellow-townsman:

"Some men are born wealthy, some acquire wealth and others have wealth thrust upon them. 'Tis the same with other things such as attention and various honors. George T. Bush of Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, a member of the Clark tour, has had both trust upon him since leaving Frisco Town, has acquired more and was born to the rest. The first day out he was elected president of a newly created camera club which started this life with a hundred members. To this he was born and accepted his position with the grace of a man who has developed plates all his life instead of following the arduous existence of a newspaper man which he is. Later he was made the chairman of the dance committee by Frank Clark, a position which he acquired through his manifold accomplishments in that direction and then Clark made him Chief Announcer. That was thrust upon him but with the other he carries his part delicately and without boasting. He is a modest man as well as a friend of Jim McCandless. Jim McCandless was his host last night."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

DREADNAUGHT CARS.

The nub of railroading is first-class equipment and reliable service. The Pennsylvania Railroad provides this for the public. For many months big all-steel coaches, built like Dreadnaughts, have been operated on all through trains. Their easy-riding qualities and steadiness of motion have been widely praised. The all-steel dining cars too have distinct advantages over the wooden ones. They are stronger and steadier, and the act of eating is made more enjoyable by the smoother movement.

There are also some steel Pullman Cars—Combined Parlor-Smokers and Baggage—in the service now. Travelers like them. They have plenty of elbow room and they glide over the rails. The Sleeping Cars are coming. Some four hundred parlor and sleeping cars will be in use by Summer.

These steel coaches and cars are the strongest vehicles ever built for passenger transportation. They are fire proof, break proof and bend proof. They represent the climax of safety and the perfection of comfort in railroad travel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has always been the leader in all manner of improved equipment as well as in all methods of making their patrons more comfortable. This is why it is known and honored as The Standard Railroad of America.

THREE LUCKY WINDFALLS

Whale, Postage Stamp and a Quarter Found at the Right Time.

The conversation in the little bohemian restaurant, says "The New York Sun," had turned on the question of how a man who is down and out may get on his feet once more.

"I ran up against the queerest windfall that ever came my way in Peru," remarked a lanky Australian, removing the pipe from between his teeth. "I had left Sydney three months before to make my way to New York. Worked before the mast on a tramp steamer that took me as far as Valparaiso, Chile, and earned enough on the trip to pay my passage to Iquique.

"Now, Iquique's right in the heart of the nitrate fields and is the most desolate port in South America. It's an awful place in which to go broke, and that's just what happened to me there.

"I got desperate at last and hid myself on board a coasting steamer bound for Callao. I won't begin to tell you what I suffered as a stowaway. It's enough to say that the captain discovered me when we were four days out from Iquique.

"We were opposite a barren and uninhabited stretch of the Peruvian coast, and he was so barbarous as to stop the boat and put me ashore. He gave me two loaves of bread and a flask of water, and with that to sustain me I started out to walk to a town about 25 miles further on.

"The next morning I was trudging along, hungry and thirsty and half dead from exhaustion, when I caught sight of a mountainous black mass stranded on the beach about 300 yards away. On approaching nearer I found that it was a sperm whale. The thing had a vile odor, and with barely one look at it I hurried on.

"I reached town that same afternoon, and some kind soul staked me to a meal. In the course of conversation I mentioned the dead whale, and what do you suppose he did? He spread the news among his neighbors, an expedition was organized, and upon their finding my story to be correct they clubbed together and handed me $50 in real money.

"They said the whale oil would mean a small fortune to them, and as I had discovered it I ought to get my share. That $50 paid my way to Panama, where I easily earned enough to take me on to New York."

An artist with a tawny beard nodded his head gravely.

"Great story," he remarked: "but do you think it beats an experience of mine? I slept for three nights in Madison Square with an unknown source of wealth in my pocketbook the whole while.

"The fourth day I made a final despairing search through my clothes for some stray coin that I might have overlooked. I opened the pocketbook and an old West Indian stamp fell out.

"I recalled having picked it up on Broadway a few months before. There was a stamp dealer's place just across the way on Twenty-third street, and just for luck I went over and tossed the stamp on his counter.

" 'Worth anything!' I asked.

"He picked it up, examined it under a magnifying glass, and raised his eyebrows.

" 'Hm,' he remarked. 'Jamaica, one penny, coat of arms, pineapple watermark. Yes, it's quite rare. I'll give you $25 for it.'

"He could have knocked me over with a feather. I could hardly mutter' 'All right, I'll sell it.' As soon as he gave me the money I chased straight down to this same restaurant and had the feed of my life. But just think of the hardships I might have escaped if I had known what the square of red paper was worth from the beginning."

"I'm a believer in luck," said a short story writer. "It would have been impossible for you to rediscover that postage stamp until your fortunate star was in the ascendancy. I believe so firmly in luck that I wasn't afraid to give it a fair trial when I was broke.

"I was in Phoenix, Arizona, a few years ago, on my uppers, without even five cents to buy a loaf of bread. I stopped by the doorway of a 25-cent restaurant and watched the diners inside with envious eye.

"Presently I glanced downward, and there on the pavement at my feet was a shining new quarter. My first impulse was to rush into the restaurant and buy a meal, but I reflected that finding the quarter proved that this was one of my fortunate days.

"Public gambling was permitted in Arizona at that time. On the opposite side of the street was a palace of chance. I crossed over and staked my quarter on the roulette wheel, at odds of four to one. I won, and promptly staked my winnings, together with the original quarter, at the same odds.

"Fortune remained consistently on my side, but when I had won $16 I thought it best to quit and indulge in a badly-needed dinner. I was able to leave Phoenix the same day, whereas if I had spent my lucky find at the start I would have been only one meal to the good."

"Excellent!" exclaimed the artist. "Now who has got another story?"

But just then the lights were turned off.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment, 50 cents at any drug store.

GUMPTION ON THE FARM

Better than gold is the sweet repose
Of the sons of toil when their labors close
Better than gold is the poor man's sleep
And the balm that drops on his slumbers deep.

Speculate not on distant things.—Chinese Proverb.

Virtue is its own reward, but a little cash helps out.

Quarrels make enemies and leave the question still unsettled.

Talk things over with the hired man; it will help both you and him.

Arrange so the chips do not fly all over the yard when chopping wood.

Many of the troubles that we see coming down the road toward our farm pass by without stopping.

When hoops come off barrels, hoop them with wire. Cheaper than buying new barrels and anybody can do it.

The man who puts a lot of cider in his cellar to get hard is laying up for his boys something that can not be kept in barrels.

The windy days of spring are here, Rattle a log chain down the chimney and get the soot out before it burns out, and maybe burns the house, too.

Two good eyes to a hill of potatoes are a-plenty. We made a mistake many times in seeding too heavily. Good stocky shoots are better than spindling ones.

Burn all the old brush heaps now and get rid of a thousand and one pests that have had their home there waiting for warm weather to bring them into activity again.

Keep the boys from fooling with any of the farm animals. Joking with calves or colts will surely bring jokes that make us laugh out of the other corner of our mouths.

Neighbors may save a nice bit of by putting their orders together and buying a large quantity of grass seed or other farm necessaries. Nice to think that farmers have the confidence in each other to do that.

Don't wait till the last minute to polish up that rusty old plow; or to get new bolts, or to grind the mowing machine knives. Preparatory licks in time blaze the way to final success. Delay is a dragging anchor.

It is easy to break a good hammer handle in drawing a long nail. After starting the nail out an inch or so, just place a bit of wood under the head of the hammer, raising it up say an inch, and you can pull your nail easily.

Dear brother, when your wife asks you for a little spending money, don't draw a wry face as though she had trod upon your corn. Just shell out with a smile, remembering all the while that the half of what you have is hers by right.

Most folks throw away their felt boots when holes come in the feet. Just cut the feet off and draw the legs on above your shoes when you have a cold job to do. Those boots have not outlived their usefulness when the feet give way. Try it and see.

How natural it is when one man makes a pretty good thing of any one crop, for everybody to rush in and try to do just as he has done! The best way, though, is to take it steady. If you do venture into a strange crop, do it conservatively. The middle course is always best in all such things.

The farmer should hustle around in early spring, order new tools and fix up old ones. In many localities the blacksmith is overburdened in repairing farming tools just at the time when the tools are needed for spring work. Not having implements ready for work at the first opportunity means a loss of several days in getting in a crop. Let us be on hand with the season. If we have been hibernating during the winter like the frog, we had better wake up and stir around some now.

A Plea for Honesty.

Under the circumstances the address of President Taft before the Republican club of New York a few days ago is the most important utterance that has come from him since he assumed office. Legislation in congress is at a crucial point and sentiment among the mysterious "interests" of the metropolis is at an acute stage. Business, the complexion of the next congress, the future of the Republican party—all these depend, in great degree, upon President Taft's applied policies and certain legislation to be passed or not passed—between this time and next summer.

And what does the President plead for? An old-fashioned, homely remedy. Honesty! That is the sum and substance of all he has to say. He insists that business shall be honest and that his party shall be honest. He demands that business methods conform to the law and that the Republican party in congress conform to the promises of the Chicago platform. Assuredly there is nothing ruinous or recklessly radical in such a conception of the necessities of the situation. The President specifically disavows any intention of running amuck. He is at some pains to emphasize the futility and folly of any administration attempting to disturb values or unsettle business for the mere sake of doing something. At the same time he is refreshingly frank in reminding interstate corporations that the limitations fixed by law upon monopoly and in the interest of unrestrained trade must be observed. On the other hand, referring to the federal charter act which he personally favors and has recommended, and to which so much danger is attached by Wall street, Mr. Taft gives assurance that he will not press it as a party measure, because it was not a part of the platform of 1908. Nothing could be fairer than this—for it is apparent tha the bill cannot pass unless through assertion of party power.

The President stands by his guns as to the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. He shows that it is a substantial compliance with the demand for revision downward, but yet meets the needs of the government for additional revenues, which latter are the yield of increased importations. He denies that this act is responsible for the high cost of living, the fact being that duties on necessaries of life were reduced. The fault, Mr. Taft declares, rests with trade combinations and the oversupply of gold, and he lays it as a duty upon Republicans to develop the truth.

Throughout the address is an admirable presentation of the administration's attitude on public questions and the Republican party's relation to them. The President is particularly timely and effective in his call upon all Republicans to get together, to harmonize their differences and to enact into legislation the various policies to which they are committed by the last national platform. Taken as a whole the speech ought to have a reviving effect upon the general outlook the country over, and it should go far toward solidifying the ranks of the President's party, which has been paying some unpleasant penalties lately for its long lease of unbroken control in federal affairs.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times
